Supervisors Halt Drafts on Reserve, Deny Funds to Gans

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors has voiced numerous objections in recent weeks to the "dipping in" of department heads into the unbudgeted reserve, but it took its first actual steps to put a stop to the procedure Tuesday afternoon when it refused to approve transfers asked by Dr. Charles C. Gans, public health and welfare director.

Dr. Gans had requested that $2500 be transferred from the unbudgeted reserve to the professional service's fund and that $300 be transferred from the unbudgeted reserve to the telephone and telegraph fund.

The supervisors expressed themselves at being irked at the way department heads obligate the county when they are unable to stay within their budgets, without consulting the supervisors before the obligations are made. They continued action on Dr. Gans' requests until their next meeting, so the board could make an investigation.

Transfer of funds which Dr. Gans asked had the approval of County Executive Frederick Peterson.

In asking for a transfer of $2500 to the professional services fund, Dr. Gans cited an increased communicable disease load caused by increased population, an increase in the demands of doctors' services, need of additional clinics, reorganization of all venereal disease control work and increased demands for vaccination and immunization.

In his request for a transfer of $300 to the telephone and telegraph fund, Dr. Gans said that because of transportation difficulties and gasoline shortage field workers have been using telephones to a greater extent.

The supervisors authorized the county purchase of $800,000 worth of short term bonds.

The board instructed County Clerk William H. Augustus to acknowledge receipt of letters from Alfred Zahl and R. J. Edwards, who complained of conditions at the San Mateo Point Yacht Harbor, but it delayed action pending a recommendation from the county planning commission.

Zahl said that the shifting of mud had made it difficult to get row boats out of the harbor at low tide and declared that boat owners had become discouraged. Edwards said that larger boats stall at low tide and suggested that an engineer investigate the situation.

The San Mateo County Fair Assn. turned in a report estimating the association would have $49,590 on hand at the end of this year.

Please Write, Board Asks

The Redwood City War Price and Ration Board today pleaded with the public to transact more of its ration and price business by mail, and less by personal call at the overworked office at Broadway and Main.

Mrs. Peninah Spence, chief clerk of the board, reported that 945 people called at the office in person Monday, 119 more by telephone. Of the personal calls, 390 were for sugar rations, 291 for gasoline, 111 for food and shoe information, 131 for price data, and 25 called about tires.

Hog Ranch Complaint Filing Due

Tired of the refusal of commercial hog ranchers in the north end of the county to clean up their premises, Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell's office announced it would file a complaint this week against operators of a Colma ranch which would bring them into court here.

The complaint asks the superior court to restrain the owners from operating their place as a hog ranch unless they comply with rules and regulations of the health and welfare department.

The suit names A. Botti, his wife, Anita, and two sons, Alto and Johnny.

The Botti family was served with a notice on Mar. 21 to abate the nuisance. Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan said the ranch has not been cleaned up. There are between 1200 and 1500 hogs on the ranch.

Charges that the stench from the ranch is "obnoxious, disagreeable and offensive to the senses of the community residing along the creek in Colma and South San Francisco" were made in the complaint.

Wrongful drainage of hogs effluent, washing water and seepage from garbage running at will on the grounds has found its way into Colma Creek causing the creek to be polluted, the complaint states.

The hog barns and feeding grounds have become breeding places for and infested with rats, mice and ground squirrels and dangerous to the health of the entire community, the complaint alleges.

The complaint also states that the Bottis transport raw garbage in open leaky trucks from San Francisco and dump it on the ground. The barns are in a delapidated and filthy condition, the complaint added.

Sanitary inspectors have inspected the premises on numerous occasions between Jan. 1, 1944( and Apr. 1, 1945, and requested the family to clean up the place.

Thirty-day notices are being served on operators of four other Colma ranches, Sullivan said. They are Olcease Bros., Angelo Olcese, Central Hog Ranch and Western Hog Ranch.

Sgt. James Doyle Wins New Cluster

For "exceptionally meritorious achievement" while participating in sustained bomber combat operations over Europe, Sgt. James E. Doyle of Redwood City has been awarded a second Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal, the Eighth Air Force in England reported today.

The 20-year-old gunner on a B-17 has flown on some of the Eighth AAF roughest missions over Germany including Berlin, Munster, Nuernberg, Munich, Leipzig, Dortmund and Bohlen. Overseas since January, Doyle has participated in assaults in the Ruhr Valley area.

Sergeant Doyle, a member of the 398th heavy bombardment group, received his training at Denver and Las Vegas. He graduated from Bellarmine High School in 1943 and went into the army in August of that year. He is the son of the O. E. Doyles of 916 Hopkins Ave.

Almer Perruquet Now In European Waters

Almer Perruquet, a navy chief commissary steward, is now stationed at an English southcoast port as a crew member of the USS LST 533, which has survived three narrow escapes in the European area, the navy reported today. Perruquet, who formerly worked here, is the brother of Mrs. Pasqualina Sodini and Alfred Perruquet of Redwood City.

He has been overseas nearly a year and in the navy for four years. A brother, Joseph, is employed with the Standard Oil Co. in Arabia, another brother, Virgil, resides in San Francisco and a sister, Mrs. Angie Thur lives in Daly City. Perruquet's father is a resident of Colma.

Milk Output Increases

U.S. milk production since Pearl Harbor has reached new high levels in 1943 totaling 56,263,000,000 quarts. All indications are that the 1944 production will be close to this high level. The 25,661,000 cows on farms each produced an average of 2141 quarts of milk in 1943.

What City May Be Facing

Prospects Are for Greater Influx of Residents

BY BUD SPRUNGER

Redwood City leaders looked forward to an intensified Pacific war today with apprenension. Already traveling on short rations and beginning to wear a little thin at the seams, the city faces an even greater congestion in the coming months and an even greater drain on its resources.

Mayor W. W. Hilton declared the situation disturbed him greatly. He said he believed that civic groups were already giving almost to capacity in their efforts to aid the war and that undoubtedly they would be called upon for a greatly stepped up service.

In the mere matter of policing alone, Hilton continued, the city faces a problem. Already minor riots have taken place and with the further influx of war workers and service personnel the city can expect nothing but an increase in friction.

Frank DePatta, realtor, said that no homes were for rent today. If there is a further immigration, and there probably will be, he said he didn't know where persons would live. Unused empty rooms are filled, he concluded, and the city has reached the saturation point unless new building can be undertaken.

As things now stand only three types of persons can obtain priorities needed to build. These are persons evicted from residences they are now renting, ex-service men and persons who come to this climate for health reasons. Such building is only a drop in the bucket.

Those who believe the housing situation will be aided by the exodus of war workers are mistaken if Postmaster Robert E. O'Connell's observations are indicative. O'Connell said today that fewer change of address cards are passing over his desk than normally, indicating that practically nobody is leaving Redwood City. His observations were borne out by ration board workers who remembered that they had issued fewer gasoline priorities to persons returning to original homes than before V-E day.

Answer to the housing situation would seem, therefore, to lie in building, realtors said. This, however, would not be an unmixed blessing. No city would want to load itself with temporary government-built barracks, not would any city want to construct a number of homes which would be unused once the war is over.

Regarding an upswing in transportation, A. A. Moran, Port of Redwood City manager, said that just recently the port has received new business and that it would continue to hike its loading schedules until it reaches its capacity. It is operating nearly at capacity now, he said.

Food is another question. Here spokesmen were divided. Elmer Tank, Safeway Store manager, and Bill Hilyea, Purity Store manager, both believe that the food situation is better today than a year ago and that it will continue to improve.

Joe Territo, however, said that food in this area is getting scarcer and that probably will become even scarcer. Further complicating the situation he said, was a large black market which is disrupting normal food channels. Purchasers are going directly to growers and ranchers, obtaining food without ration points and at higher than ceiling prices. Besides throwing the OPA system off, this short circuiting is actually making food much scarcer in retail outlets, he claimed.

What the answer is, Territo said he didn't know. If the government can obtain more food and can ship it to the aPcific Coast, that would ease things, he explained. If, however, there is no more food available or if it can not be shipped here, the situation might become critical, kiting black market prices.

"At least so far," he concluded, "nobody is going hungry . . . that much we can be thankful for. And nobody can tell the future."

Regarding entertainment for service men, Mrs. Manah Dixon, USO program chairman, said that the present USO organization can and will cope with all these activities. The organization is such, she continued, that it can be expanded should more men avail themselves of its activities. The need for more junior hostesses, however, is ever present, she concluded.

Widow of Millionaire Seeks To Divorce Sailor

Events that read like a novel came to light Monday when Superior Court Judge A. R. Cotton set June 12 as the date of trial of a divorce suit filed by Frances Berry Stockton, widow of the late millionaire James M. Mannon Jr. of Atherton, against MM1/c Ernest Stockton of the U. S. Navy, now in Brazil.

Mrs. Stockton filed suit for divorce against the former San Jose service station operator, whom she married 4½ months after Mannon died Mar. 9, 1943, on Apr. 21, 1944. She charged cruelty, and alleged there were no children by the marriage.

Stockton filed an affidavit on Apr. 24 of this year in which he alleged that his wife informed him in numerous telephone calls from Toronto, Canada, where she is now living, to Richmond, Fla., where he formerly was stationed, that she had a son by him and threatened that if he contested the divorce action he would never see her or the child again.

In a telephone conversation Dec. 15, 1944, in a third of a series of long distance calls, Mrs. Stockton told him that "she was going to have a divorce . . . regardless of what it took to obtain it," the affidavit states.

On Dec. 30 of the same year, the affidavit states, Mrs. Stockton told her husband their child, Pernell, was in good health and weighed 13 pounds, and that "the child was her life and that she had become so attached to him she could not live without him."

She stated that if he contested the divorce "he would never lay eyes on her or the baby again," the affidavit states.

In another conversation Jan. 2 of this year, the affidavit continues, Mrs. Stockton told Stockton "something terrible had happened," and informed him that she had "given the baby (meaning Pernell Stockton) away to a friend of her father's in Manitoba, Canada, and that he had double crossed her. She said that the friend had an attorney up to see her in her hotel that day and the attorney explained that it was impossible for her to get the child back, that she had given up the rights to the child and that she was half out of her mind."

Stockton said he was unable to ascertain how she had given the child away.

Mannon, a prominent San Francisco attorney, left one-fifth of his estate valued at $1,741,438.76 in trust for his wife, the present Mrs. Stockton. Stockton alleges that Mrs. Stockton has a monthly income in excess of $5000. He earns $114 a month, he stated.

Three Purchase Local Drug Store

Sale of the Economy Drug Store on Broadway in Redwood City for an undisclosed sum was effected May 1, Ralph R. Epstein, one of three new owners, announced today.

Epstein, who with Joseph G. Ansill and Henry Kemp, purchased interests in Economy stores in Palo Alto, San Mateo and Vallejo, said the store here would be extensively restocked and new fixtures would be added as soon as possible.

The name will be changed to the Kleer Drug Co., he said.

Complete modernization of the store front is contemplated with the relaxing of building restrictions, he declared.

Ansill and Epstein were formerly associated with a drug company in the East, while Kemp is former district manager of the Sontag Drug Stores in California.

Walter Palmer will remain as manager of the store, and no changes in personnel are planned, Epstein said.

Budget First To Pass $4,000,000 Figure

San Mateo County's total budget for the fiscal year 1945-46 as it will go to public hearing on June 5 is $4,079,254.87, an increase of more than $600,000 over the budget for the present fiscal year, it was learned Wednesday.

This is the first time the budget for salaries, maintenance and operation and capital outlay passes the $4,000,000 mark.

The board of supervisors has been working on the budget and consulting with department heads for several weeks and completed its work late Tuesday afternoon.

This figure does not include schools and special districts.

For the present fiscal year, $3,462,321.72 was allowed. The proposed budget for the next fiscal year surpasses this figure by $616,933.15.

Hearing on the salary ordinance will be held in the supervisors' chambers at the courthouse here next Tuesday.

A budget breakdown by general classification shows salary and wages, $1,334,343; maintenance and operation, $2,032,031.50; capital outlay, $525,765.37; interest and debt redemption, $34,115; unbudgeted reserve, $55,000, and general reserve, $100,000.

Included in the amount allowed is $137,000 for courthouse construction. This includes $112,000 on hand, leaving only $25,000 to be raised by levy. Among other allowances were juvenile home construtcion, $50,000 ($25,000 is already on hand); relief home, $25,000; postwar memorial buildings, $69,000 ($34,000 on hand, $35,000 to be appropriated); general reserve, $100,000 (already on hand, no levy); postwar planning, $36,000 ($26,000 on hand, $10,000 to be raised); June, 1946, primary election, $50,000.

Wedding Gifts

Tradition exacts that wedding gifts of highest quality should be looked for in the stocks of jewelry stores. The slogan "Gifts That Last" was derived from the fact that jewelry store merchandise primarily has been selected with that idea in mind. The bride, who has the good fortune to have among her friends and loved ones those who wish for her a lifetime of happiness, will find among her wedding presents innumerable articles purchased from jewelry stores, with their modern giftware departments having added scope to selections.

Lomita Park, Capuchino Clash Over Sewer District

A clash between Lomita Park and Capuchino over their joint sewer district was sparked off Tuesday when the Lomita Park Property Owners' Committee filed a petition containing 275 signatures asking the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors to dissolve the Lomita Park-Capuchino Sewer District, to investigate activities of the district's board members to see if there has been any "malfeasance of office and, if so, that the board members be removed.

Representatives of the districts argued the matter before the supervisors Tuesday morning.

The committee claimed in the petition that the district is not acting in good faith and that it was intended as spoliation for Scoble, Inc., subdividers.

A bond issue for $66,000 to finance a sewer outfall for Lomita Park and Capuchino will be up for election May 22.

"If the assessment is made in accordance with the method they (the district board members) propose, it is plain the result will be disproportionate taxation," the petition stated. "The facilities they propose will cost $66,000 as compared to the more adequate facilities now being constructed by South San Francisco and San Bruno, to cost the sanitary district $7150."

Quincy Bradshaw, representing the committee at Tuesday's supervisor's meeting, said that Tanforan, South San Francisco and San Bruno have entered into a contract for construction of an outfall at a cost of $150,000 and that Lomita Park could be served by this outfall.

Ernest Wilson, representing Capuchino, declared that only the northern part of Lomita Park could economically be served by joining with San Bruno. He further argued that the board of supervisors had nothing to do with the consolidation or dissolution of Lomita Park and Capuchino districts.

The supervisors referred the matter to Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell's office to determine if the board has power to dissolve the district.

The petition also asked that if members of the district's board of directors were removed, that new members be elected to fill unexpired terms or to dissolve the Lomita Park district. The supervisors also were asked to negotiate with the city of San Bruno to secure outfall extensions.

Two Local Men Are Wounded

Two Redwood City men are listed as wounded in action on a joint army-navy casualty list made public Tuesday.

They are:

PFC John Palladino, son of Mrs. Mary Palladino, of 154 Belmont Ave., and

PFC Richard L. Cain, USMC, husband of Mrs. Richard L. Cain of 411 Hamilton St.

Palladino was wounded in Italy on Apr. 11, his mother was informed in a War Department telegram. He has been awarded the Purple Heart.

His wife, Judy, resides in San Francisco, and his three brothers are serving in the armed forces.

Henry, who recently returned from Germany, is now stationed at Camp Beale and expects a 30-day furlough soon before receiving a new assignment. Another brother, Joseph, is with the American army in Germany, and Frank Palladino is in the Pacific with the merchant marine.

Cain, a Sequoia High School graduate, entered the marines in 1942, having transferred from a state guard unit.

The casualty list does not state in what theater of operations he is serving.

He received paratroop training with the marines upon completion of "boot" camp at San Diego.

Leidermans Have Made Up

The Leidermans of San Mateo have patched up their differences, it seemed Wednesday, with the request that the divorce suit filed by Marie T. Leiderman against Abraham T. Leiderman on Apr. 25, be dismissed.

Leiderman, 55 Hobart Ave., San Mateo, turf supply firm operator, assertedly stabbed Mrs. Leiderman and Frederick Sarg, owner of Peggy's Pet Shop, San Mateo, when he found the pair together in the pet shop.

Sarg's suit for annulment from Helen Sarg was still on file today. Mrs. Sarg was sent a summons in Chicago by mail.

April Paper Drive Netted $1038.70

A check for $1038.70 was received by Frank DePatta, city salvage chairman, Tuesday from the Independent Paper Stock Co., of San Francisco for the 159,800 pounds of waste paper donated by the residents of Redwood City and this area in the Apr. 8 drive.

The money will be turned over to the Boy Scouts and the Community Church, DePatta said, in urging housewives to continue their salvage of paper for the next drive June 23-24. "The war is far from over and paper, tin cans and fats are still vitally needed," he added.

Denis Dunlop III At Shepard Field

Pvt. Denis Dunlop is recovering from an attack of pneumonia at the Shepard Field, Tex., hospital, his parents the V. R. Dunlops of 530 Santa Clara Ave. reported today. The 18-year-old air force private entered the service on Apr. 6 but has been in the air force reserves since last June. Active in football trampoline, he graduated from Sequoia High School in February.

A brother, S/Sgt. Jack Dunlop, is expected home soon having spent four years in Puerto Rico with the air forces. Jack, 24, was home on furlough last year. A third brother, Dick, is completing his bombardier-navigator training at San Angelo, Tex. Dick and Jack both graduated from South San Francisco High School and attended San Mateo Junior College.

Cash Profit, Luxury Food, Victory Garden Yield

Does it pay, in dollars and cents, to grow your own vegetables for home use?

To answer this question Walter S. Adams, member of the Men's Garden Club of Asheville, N. C., kept a detailed record in 1944 of all the money spent on his Victory Garden, and recorded the value at market prices of all the vegetables harvested from it.

Total expenses were $80.53, which included $35.45 for plowing and labor. The value of all vegetables harvested, and either used by his family, sold or given away, totaled $128.42. The net return from the 50x80 Victory garden was therefore $47.89, which could have been raised to $76.59 had the $28.70 which was expended on labor other than plowing, been saved.

But there were other returns from his Victory garden which Mr. Adams stresses in the following summary of the value of a home vegetable garden to his family:

1—It is cheaper—average family can save from $50 to $100 a year.

2—It is more convenient, your garden is much closer to you than the market, and it takes less time to operate the garden than to shop for groceries in the market.

3—Vegetables fresh from your own garden are much superior to those obtained from the market, in nutritive value, tenderness and flavor.

4—The pleasure which the family shares from work in the garden is a special bonus that only those who garden can appreciate.

Mr. Adams' family used fresh vegetables worth $48.92, and canned $48.45 worth. He sold for cash $8.60 worth and gave away $18.45 worth. He itemizes vegetables used by his family as follows:

Tomatoes (140 plants), $46.60; lima beans, $6.90; corn, $6.50; beets, $6.10; soy beans, $5.70; peas, $4.70; onions, $4.65; broccoli, $4; beans, $2.65; kale, $2.80; cabbage, $1.80; peppers, $1.55; squash, $1.50; parsley, $1.20; lettuce, $1.10; carrots, $1.00; radishes, $1.00; crowder peas, 95 cents; spinach, 70 cents; turnip greens, 60 cents; collards, 50 cents; cucumbers, 45 cents; mustard greens, 32 cents; tampala, 30 cents; turnips, 30 cents; leeks, 20 cents.

Expenditures are itemized as follows: Seeds and plants, $18.21; manure and commercial plant food, $14.10; plowing and labor, $35.45; watering (cost of water), $6; miscellaneous, insecticides, small gardening supplies, $6.77; total, $80.53.

Mr. Adams kept his meticulous record as an assignment from the Men's Garden club, to which he made his report.

"It was a complicated task," he reported, referring to his record. "I am glad it's over and assure you I'll never do it again. However, being a novice in gardening, it was excellent training for me."

Victory Garden Balance Sheet

Walter S. Adams of Asheville, N. C., kept a careful record of the cost of his 50x80 foot Victory garden and the market value of his harvest in 1944.

Expenditures, including $35.45 for plowing and hired labor, totaled $80.53; and the vegetables harvested were $128.42.

At a saving of $47.89 over the market cost, Mr. Adams says he had better food than he could have bought, plus good health and recreation for the whole family.

500 S. M. County Students To Attend 'Report to Youth'

Five hundred students from San Mateo County high schools, including Sequoia High School, are expected to attend "A Report to Youth Meeting" in Civic Auditorium in San Francisco Friday afternoon.

Sequoia has been allotted 150 tickets for the meeting, a special event designed for youth in connection with the United Nations Conference on International Organization, A. C. Argo, Sequoia superintendent, reported.

The event is sponsored by the combined Hi-Y and Tri-Y Clubs of the San Francisco Young Men's Christian Assn. as they observe the opening of their second century as a worldwide organization.

Featured speakers to this gathering of 10,000 youths will be Jan Masaryk, chairman of the Czechoslovakian delegation, and Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, chairman of the Philippine Commonwealth delegation, according to V. M. Robertson, executive secretary of the Peninsula branch of the YMCA.

The idea and plan of the program have been worked out largely by the Hi-Y and Tri-Y Clubs themselves, Robertson said.

Students desiring to attend must have permission from their parents and must show they have means of transportation, Argo said. Teachers who attend will be given institute credit.

Sgt. Ray Meredith Returns on Leave

Returning from 20 months in the Pacific Theater, Marine T/Sgt. Ray J. Meredith of Redwood City is now spending a 30-day leave with his parents, the J. R. Merediths of 943 Fulton St. He served as a mechanic with a Marine Air Wing service squadron on Midway.

Steele Applies for S.M. City Clerkship

SAN MATEO—Frank J. Steel, property appraiser to the City of San Mateo, Tuesday submitted his application to the city council for appointment to the office of city clerk and assessor for the unexpired term of the late incumbent, Belton Rhodes.

To reporters he explained that he is applying for the job because Mrs. Mary Rose, who Monday night was named acting city clerk by the council, does not want the job.

In his application letter to the council, Steele says that he has been in the employ of the city since April, 1927, serving in various positions in the police department and the assessor's office.

Wife Drops Divorce Action Against Steed

George R. Steed of Burlingame, who was tried in superior court here in 1940 on a charge of murdering his father, Andrew, has become reconciled with his wife, Eileen, it appeared Wednesday with the filing of a dismissal of the divorce action.

Mrs. Steed filed a divorce complaint against Steed on Aug. 10, 1944, and was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce on Sept. 25 of last year. The dismissal action was filed by Mrs. Steed with Steed's approval.

Steed was divorced by a former wife, Marjorie, in 1940.

Murder charges against Steed were dropped when a jury failed to agree.

'Imaginative Baby' In Divorce Case

The "baby" which is playing an important role in the divorce of the widow of the late millionaire James M. Mannon Jr. of Atherton, against her $114-a-month sailor husband is purely a figure of the imagination, Frank Crist of Palo Alto, attorney for Mrs. Frances Berry Stockton, Mannon's widow, declared Tuesday.

Crist declared that Mrs. Stockton's husband, MM1/c Ernest Stockton of the U. S. Navy, now in Brazil, had told her he was in love with another woman and that Mrs. Stockton "invented" the baby to "hurt" him.

Crist admitted that Mrs. Stockton had sent her husband a letter informing him of the "baby", which Crist declared was "a foolish thing to do."

Jewish Welfare Drive Stepped Up

Pointing out that V-E Day and the liberation of Europe open up still greater opportunities and responsibilities for relief and rehabilitation of Jewish war victims, workers in the annual appeal of the Jewish National Welfare Fund are intensifying their efforts in San Mateo County.

Jack A. Ornstein and Philip N. Lilienthal Jr. are in charge of San Mateo County workers.

The goal of the drive is $800,000 — the largest on record. According to Marcel Hirsch, campaign chairman, this increased quota is necessitated by the mounting needs for relief and rehabilitation of war sufferers in the devastated countries of Europe.

Hirsch explained that while contributions are solicited from Jewish people only, donations from non-Jews will be accepted gratefully.

Headquarters of the Welfare Fund for San Mateo County are at 216 California Dr., Burlingame.

Mills Field Expansion Before S. F. Supervisors

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors will give early consideration to a plan for the expansion of Mills Field, in San Mateo County, at an estimated cost of $20,000,000, members of the board voted Monday.

Supervisor Dan Gallagher, president of the board, said that commercial air lines will be operating four-motored aircraft by the first of next year.

The supervisors previously had tabled the $20,000,000 bond issue intended to finance the program.

"The tabling of this measure," Supervisor Robert M. Green said, "had the effect of discouraging air lines that want to locate here or expand their facilities in San Francisco. We should lift it from the table to let them, and the public, know it is still a live issue."

Supervisor Gallagher declared that Los Angeles and other Pacific Coast cities are going ahead with airport plans, and that the public should be assured that San Francisco also plans to expand its aviation facilities.

Supervisor Chester R. McPhee reported that $33,000 had been offered for 33 acres of San Francisco-owned water department property at San Carlos.

He said four acres of the land is being used for agricultural purposes and that a five-room cottage is being rented at $12.50 a month. San Francisco pays $250 a year taxes on the 33 acres and house, McPhee said. The $333,000 offer was rejected by the water department, McPhee declared.

2 Daly City Men Nabbed by FBI

Ira W. Hyder and Platt S. Taylor, South San Francisco shipyard workers who reside at 138 Santa Cruz Ave., Daly City, were arrested and charged with theft of government property Monday, N. J. L. Pieper of the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced in San Francisco today.

Hyder was charged with possessing an electric drill valued at $35 which was taken from the Western Pipe & Steel Co. plant, Pieper said.

Taylor is charged with taking an electric drill, also valued at $35, from the shipyard on Apr. 24.

Lt. John Durnam Freed From Prison

Offical word that Lt. John N. (Bud) Durnam of Redwood City was liberated along with thousands of other Allied prisoners at Moosburg Prison near Bremen was received Tuesday by his parents, the H. B. Durnams of 29 Clinton St., through the International Red Cross.

May 3 the young officer was believed to be among those freed at Moosburg. Further details about Lieutenant Durnam were not revealed by the Red Cross.

Durnam, co-pilot on a B-24 Liberator, was shot down over Naples on Apr. 11, 1943, and was taken prisoner by the Italians. In December of that year he was transferred to a German prison camp. The 27-year-old officer was overseas only a month when he was shot down.

S. F. Investor Buys Crocker Property

Floyd E. Jennings, San Francisco investor, has purchased 14 acres of the Templeton Crocker estate in Hillsborough in the hills near Ridgway and Vista Rds. for subdivision purposes for an indicated price of $60,000.

The property will provide homesites for 30 homes, the San Mateo real estate firm of Raybould & Bartlett, which handled the transaction, reported. The homesites will sell for $5000 each. The property was purchased from California Pacific Title Insurance Co.

Teachers Here Due For Raise

Redwood City Elementary School District teachers will receive salary hikes of between $150 and $300 during the 1945-46 fiscal year, Andrew Spinas, superintendent, said today.

In a proposed district budget of $328,435 is an allocation of $207,495 for salaries. Last year from a total budget of $288,414 the board alloted $179,334 for salaries. Spinas said that the approved budget, with but few revisions, will be submitted to San Mateo County superintendent of schools before July 1 and subsequently become law.

Spinas claimed that the increased budget would not be reflected in the tax rate because school districts are scheduled to receive increased allotments from the state government during 1945-46.

State allocation increases are the result of the passage last November of Amendment No. 9 in the general election. This bill makes it possible for the state to allocate approximately $80 per pupil to the district during 1945-46. Last year the state allocated only $63 per pupil. The tax rate last year was $.7031.

In explaining the new salary increases, Spinas said that the district would pay on a schedule this year. Teachers thereby obtain wage hikes according to the number of years' service they have given and to the amount of their own education.

Prior to the outbreak of the war elementary school teachers were paid on a similar schedule, but this was dropped during the war crisis.

Although some teachers would be entitled to $500 raises if the new schedule was closely followed, Spinas said that the board has authorized no increase of more than $300. A study of the schedule and last year's salary rolls shows that no teacher will receive less than a $150 raise this year.

A breakdown of the 1945-46 budget: Instruction, including supplies, $222,585; operation of plant, $25,230; maintenance of plant, $7100; administration, $9120; fixed charges, $3640; undistributed reserve, $3000; on bonded debt, $200; and capital reserves, $50,000.

The plight of the teacher, as that of other white collar workers, becomes precarious in war times or in inflationary spirals such as the nation is now undergoing, Spinas added. Persons on fixed incomes suffer directly from the rising cost of living and are unable to protect themselves by increasing their earning capacity. In line with this, Spinas said, the board has granted some salary increases during the early war years and that the latest schedule was merely a continuation of that policy.

Half Moon Bay Breakwater Is Endorsed at Hearing

Unanimously endorsing erection of a breakwater from Pillar Pt. on Half Moon Bay, nearly 300 persons attended a public hearing conducted by the U.S. Army District Engineers in Half Moon Bay Tuesday.

The proposed project, endorsers forecast, would benefit the fishing and fish cannery industries, making the bay one of the largest small-boat ports on the coast.

Numerous representatives of commercial, labor, sportsmen's, and civic groups appeared at the hearing to urge construction of two breakwaters in an L-shape running 10,000 feet.

Proponents pointed out the advantages to the fishing industry, navigation, recreational activities, soil erosion, real estate values and tax accruals.

A resolution of endorsement, passsed by the San aMteo County Board of Supervisors yesterday, was offered at the hearing, and met with disappointed reaction from the engineers.

Col. K. M. Moore asked the supervisors to be more specific and include a provision pledging financial aid, if necessary, and to reconsider the resolution.

Moore pointed out the hearing, however, was only the first step in considering construction of a breakwater or other facilities.

Data, including testimony at yesterday's hearing, will be gathered by the engineers who in turn will submit their findings to the U.S. Engineer's office. Preliminary approval will result in a more detailed study, he said.

Charles W. O'Brien, Half Moon Bay bank executive and general chairman of the Pillar Point breakwater committee, joined with Fred C. Taton of the state chamber of commerce in outlining the project.

A letter from the California State Fish and Game Commission declared Half Moon Bay to be one of the most desirable harbor points on the coast and recommended it as an intermediary point of unloading between Monterey and San Francisco, strongly recommending the entire harbor proposal.

O'Brien and Taton presented letters of endorsement from the International Fishermen and Allied Worker joint council, and Metvin Rathborne, secretary of the California CIO council.

Charles White, who said 81 boats have been lost off the fishing grounds during the past 10 years, advocated construction of the harbor from a safety standpoint.

The purse seiner fleet which could utilize the improved harbor was valued at $12,000,000 by White who added between eight and 10,000 men are employed in the trade between Monterey and San Francisco.

Additional information on fishing possibilities was given by Nat Johnson who said 150 salmon trawlers now using the port of Princeton would be increased to 300 upon completion of the breakwater.

While industrial development is planned for the northern end of the proposed harbor, county facilities for a yacht anchorage and recreation could be established at the southern end, Harry Clark advocated.

Supervisor Alvin Hatch, County Assessor Martin Flynn and Fire Warden Bert L. Werder were among county officials present at the hearing.

Lt. Robert Cahill Missing in Action

The War Department announced Wednesday that First Lt. Robert J. Cahill of San Carlos is missing in action in the European Theater. The young air force officer has been overseas only a few months.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cahill of 775 Chestnut St., Cahill received his wings at Eagle Pass, Tex., in February, 1944. Following a furlough, he was assigned to an air field in Louisiana. His brother, Lt. Eugene Cahill has completed his final stage of training as a member of a B-29 crew in Pyote, Tex. A bombardier, Gene entered the service in July, 1943. Both men graduated from Sequoia High School.

Clothing Drive Yield Is 25 Tons

Twenty-five tons of clothing for the United Nations Drive has been sorted, packed, bailed and is ready for shipment from Redwood City to San Francisco, Francis Britschgi, committee chairman for this area, announced today.

"Although falling short of our quota of 42 tons, we feel that the people have co-operated with us to a great degree and we wish to thank everyone for their aid and contributions," Britschgi said. "Special praise should be given to the volunteer workers from the various organizations and clubs who spent hours laboriously packing and baling the garments."

"Churches, too, have donated space and workers as have schools, fire houses and the post office in this region," he added. "All should be given a generous vote of appreciation as well as the committee members and Mrs. Frances Donnelly, secretary."

Pastor C. S. Prout of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, San Mateo, today reported that an official bulletin form church headquarters in Washington, D. C., reveals that distribution among destitute peoples has already begun. The first two tons reaching North Africa was said to have "reached the people just in time."

More than 200 tons of clothing has already been shipped to Ethiopia, Italy, Belgium, Greece and the Philippines, according to the General Conference Home Missionary Dept. in Washington. A 10-ton shipment is now in preparation for Sweden where there are 80,000 refugees from Finland and the Balkan states.

Speeding Ambulance, Car Crash Here; No One Hurt

Three persons escaped injury Tuesday noon when a high speed ambulance on emergency call and an automobile driven by a Sequoia High School student crashed at El Camino Real and Broadway, Redwood City police reported.

The northbound ambulance, driven by John E. Johnson, 28, of the Ratliff Ambulance Service, was en route to San Carlos. Johnson estimated speed of his vehicle at 65 miles an hour.

Emile Casali, 17, of 104 Beverly Dr., San Carlos, was driver of the coupe which was hurled around by the force of the impact.

Charles Kleiser, 19, of 344 Eaton Ave., and passenger with Casali, was thrown out of the car onto the pavement, but was uninjured.

Hundreds of Sequoia High School students, out of class for the noon hour, gathered at the scene.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

The best investment in life is something we do for children. Their wants are simple, and it takes so little to entertain them. And, unlike grownups, they are so appreciative. It was that way Thursday night at the Woman's Club when the Commuters held their annual fathers-and-sons dinner party. It was by all standards quite the nicest party the Commuters have ever arranged.

Close to 100 dinners were served, 38 to boys and 55 to their fathers or "foster" fathers. (A special salute to Bill Dobbyn and Stan Perkins for something extra nice they did.) You just knew all the boys were having fun; their gaiety and laughter were so spontaneous. If there is any prettier or more inspiring music in a darkened, war-weary world than the spontaneous laughter of children, we have never heard it.

★ ★ ★

During dinner the boys made paper gliders and for a while the air (not to mention the spaghetti and meat balls) were full of miniature dive bombers. Once we opened our mouth to say something to Guido Simoni and a cardboard mainliner flew in. We instinctively swallowed and only the tail assembly was sticking out when little Jimmy came to our rescue. We thought he was trying to help us, but he was only interested in trying to retrieve the plane. And he sulked because the tail pulled off and we had swallowed the fuselage.

For such behavior at the dinner table at home all of the boys would have been soundly spanked. It shows that mother is the disciplinarian . . . not only of the child but of his father as well. You could just see the dads saying to their boys — "We're sure putting it over on mother tonight, aren't we?" The food was good, too, after you picked the assorted aircraft out of it. After dinner a stirring one-hour movie, tracing the cause of the war and showing America's unpreparedness, was shown through the courtesy of the military at Moffett Field.

Following the movie, which ran to 10 o'clock and made the party pretty late for kids, came the Commuters' annual election. This, we might add, is something that should never again be held on "children's night." There is something about politics, even under the most benign auspices that is not consonant with the open-face innocence of little children.

★ ★ ★

The election, however, didn't take long. It was pretty well organized in advance, as predicted exclusively in this column last week. There was no contest for any office except for one place on the board of directors. An independent candidate, running on a platform for "smaller and fewer holes in commute tickets," lost by only one vote in a total of 55 cast. If Elmer Ross, who nominated him; John Clark, Charley Woodmansee and others who sponsored him, had remembered to attend the meeting, he would have won handily. Unfortunately the candidate was not present . . . because he lay ill in a hospital.

★ ★ ★

All officer candidates were unopposed and all polled virtually unanimous votes, which attests to their individual popularity and assures the future health and prosperity of the club. Elected were Clarence Brizee, president; W. J. McKeegan, vice president; Ed DeBow, secretary; Al Armitage, treasurer; Roy Fredlund and Joe Harper, sergeants-at-arms. Six directors, of seven nominated, were elected as follows: Stan Perkins, Bradley Martin, Ed Horgan, Art England, W. Silverthorne and Miles McDonald. Congratulations all!

★ ★ ★

The foregoing seemed pretty important Thursday night, when we were full . . . of meat balls and spaghetti . . . and paper airplanes. But now, after reading of the fresh casualties on Okinawa, and what George Bernard Shaw says about the dark days that lie ahead for Europe and the world, the Redwood City Commuters Club somehow doesn't seem quite so important. The club suffered loss of face and a severe blow to its international prestige when it failed to win a seat at the United Nations security conference. Over the next 100 years we predict for the club a period of slow decline.

Sign in the window of Louis Weule & Co., San Francisco: "Due to wartime shortages only one argument allowed to each customer."

. . . Congratulations to Redwood City on her 78th birthday! (Just the age of Uncle Jim when the revenoors got him) . . . Sick Committee Chmn. Bill Curran reports the following newcomers to his list: Lou Winkenwerder, ordered by his doctor to take a month at bed rest; Lloyd Liebman, flu with trimmings; Mrs. Frank Louda, surgery P. A. Hospital. Previously reported but still on sick list are Olin Nuckolls, Miles McDonald and Tom Cutting. . . . Up and around again is Tom Giannini, Jr., who attended the dinner Thursday with his dad and brother, Roland. Nice going, Tommy Junior! . . . Being introduced around by his proud parents is handsome Lt. Cal. Horgan, Army Air Corps, home on leave. You can understand his good looks if you know his parents, Helen and Ed.

Sunday, Mother's Day; Monday, the Seventh War Loan! Any connection? Yes. Every mother wants her boy back as soon as possible. The surest and quickest way to accomplish that is to buy war bonds. She loaned her boy, surely you can loan your dollars. Let's give Gen. Chmn. Bud Kellogg the help he deserves. The Commuters have a fine committee, composed of Paul Allen, chairman; Al Armitage, Clarence Brizee, Bill Curran, Ray Cereghino, Wrex Cruse, W. J. McKeegan, Sanford and Ed DeBow, George Raubinger, Lu Reiss, Bill Silverthorne, Jack Welch and yours truly. Commuters street sales will be held Saturday, June 2. ## Ask County for $61,326 in Damages

A San Francisco couple today filed notice with the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors of a claim for $61,245 damages as the result of an automobile accident on the Old State Rt. 1 at Rockaway Beach.

The couple, Fred F. and Evelyn Bohr, claimed that on Feb. 17 their automobile hit a large pile of dirt and rocks which was on the highway. Mrs. Bohr asked for $50,000 for her injuries, including compound fracture of the right leg.

Bohr asks $1000 for bruises and cuts about the face, head and chest which he suffered and for $10,000 "for loss of society because of injury" to his wife. He asked $235 for damages to his car.

Perfect Target

Northern lights helped the Nazis to pick out and sink the battleship Royal Oak in 1939. The great British ship, lying at anchor in Scapa Flow, made a perfect target for U-boat gunners as it stood out in silhoutte against the lighted sky.

Perfumes have been used ever since human beings populated the earth.

Daly City Woman Sues for Injuries

Louise J. Crowley, Daly City bookkeeper, has filed suit in superior court here for $27,809.28 damages for injuries suffered when her automobile and one in which Harold Angier and G. Lockhart were riding collided on Bayshore Hwy. at South San Mateo Sept. 17 of last year.

She was thrown to the pavement when her car overturned, she claimed, causing her to suffer numerous injuries.

GARDEN: Redwood City People Grow Tall Roses

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

How people in Redwood City can grow such tall roses with practically no care is practically a phenomenon. Yard long stems on garden varieties seem common place, and the long stems can't just be tall stories — there've been too many, from too many people.

Yesterday we were going over the letter of Mrs. Anton Ondry of Redwood and had covered the 36-inch stems and she was saying, "I am fussy about weeds." Continuing, she writes:

"We have almost an acre of ground, and I dig up the place by myself. My husband and myself built our house three years ago. We did everything ourselves, including plumbing, etc. We have a large living room, kitchen, two bedrooms, bath and sleeping porch with bunk beds. Now we're working on the barbecue pit.

"We also built a chicken house and rabbit hutches. It took us a year to build the house. The rest he just does after work and on Sundays.

"There were 14 olive trees on the land and a half acre of grapes. They hadn't been plowed since 1923. We didn't think the grapes would amount to anything, so we set out an orchard in between. It was amazing how these vines responded to a little care. Last year I put up 23 gallons of pure juice, not to mention all we ate and gave away, and I had bunches weighing as much as five pounds each. The little trees are coming along nicely, too. It's going to be a problem later on, which ones to thin out."

I thought you'd be interested in this letter, because it shows how interesting one can find a place where plans can be laid and then carried out.

Here are some tips from greenthumber D. S. Seaborn of 171st Ave., Hayward:

"For gophers, take some barium carbonate powder and just plain uncooked oatmeal. Make a stiff paste and with gloves on roll into balls walnut size. Place in hole and make a bridge over opening one makes to find the hole. Use a shingle, board or anything handy. Then fill all cracks around it and that should finish that one off.

"Barium will cost $1.00 per package at the drug store. I suggest that the gentlemen troubled with gophers go over to neighbor's and trap there as I did on vacant lots. I have one on each side of me. Best time is Winter before the young are born and by going to them it saves a lot of trouble later. As for human scent? I get many gophers and use bare hands.

"Another trick: Use a few drops of B-1 in water for young flat plants — tomatoes, eggplants, peppers, etc. . . ."

I have no doubt some of those poison baits work. But don't forget the old Macabee style gopher trap has a fine record against gophers, and there's no danger of anyone being poisoned.

Mrs. J. E. Pattillo wonders about planting peas, whether or not to soak the seeds. "We planted one batch without soaking and it took one month for them to come up. The next batch we soaked and they came up in a week under very similar weather conditions, and now are as big as the first planting."

That catch up is often noted in Spring as the days get longer and warmer. Naturally, soaking a seed will cause it to germinate more quickly. PROVIDING it hasn't been soaked long enough so it rots before coming through the surface.

Peas should always be dusted with a powder to kill harmful bacteria, and soaking first washes off the powder. Best practice is not to soak peas. Beans can be soaked for an hour or so, but you're asking for trouble if you let them soak a day and allow them to swell up big.

Beet seeds are speeded up by a several hour soaking, and so with celery, soaking is common practice. But by and large, it's much safer to keep the soil moist, and put the beans in dry. Incidently, beans are not dusted with the powder for killing harmful bacteria in the soil.

He was graduated from Sequoia High School in 1940. His wife, Mae, and 2-year-old daughter, Donna Jean, reside in Belmont with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Valladao. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cesarin who reside on Quartz St., Redwood City.

Bartender Slugged, Won't Sign Complaint

Because a Redwood City bartender said he would not sign a complaint against his assailant, Redwood City police Tuesday closed investigation of a fight which resulted in the bartender's being hit over the head by a broken whisky bottle at the Club Scamus Monday night.

The bartender, C. A. Dunn of 1132 Madison Ave., told investigating police and a shore patrol officer, an unidentified sailor became enraged during an argument and leaped over the bar, striking Dunn on the left side of the head.

War Prisoner Camp at Dibble

MENLO PARK—Construction is expected to start soon on the prisoner of war camp that will be established by Dibble General Hospital to provide help for the grounds and the mess halls.

Lt. Col. Thomas W. E. Christmas, executive officer at Dibble, estimated today that it would take about a month for the camp to be constructed. It will be designed to house from 150 to 200 prisoners, who are being brought here to solve the labor shortage problem at the hospital.

Ravenswood School Board Discusses Teacher Wages

Need for increases in Ravenswood School teachers' salaries to keep the scale there from dropping below that in surrounding communities was discussed briefly Monday at a meeting of the Ravenswood School Board. A teachers' committee is to be named to present recommendations to the board.

Roy Liddicoat, principal of the school; Mrs. Liddicoat, Mrs. S. E. Laine and Larry Welch were visitors at the meeting.

The board designated 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. as voting hours at the Ravenswood School for the election of a trustee Friday. T. A. Callahan, whose term expires, is the only candidate.

Resignations of two teachers, Mrs. Ruth Sturgeon Clark and Mrs. Clara Fuller, were accepted, and leaves of absence granted Mrs. Mortimer Markoff and Miss Alice Wilkinson.

Mrs. Rilda Couch, 1728 Cowper St., Palo Alto, will shift from the Palo Alto school system to Ravenswood as fourth grade teacher next year, replacing Mrs. Markoff, who plans to devote the year to study.

Mrs. Clark is going to Washington, D. C., to be with her husband and Miss Wilkinson has joined the WAVES.

Arthur D. Janssen, school architect, reported that the War Production Board had approved the proposed new unit of the Willow School.

Discussion of the budget for next year continued.

Those assisting with the program were: Clyde Higbie, Mrs. Al Mueller, Mrs. Tex Justus and Mrs. John Leahy.

A card party is set for June 9 to complete the funds necessary for the soundproofing of the rooms over Cherington Hall. The Cake-Bake Sale which was also for this project was declared a great success by the committee.

Hirschey Again Mayor of S. M.

Claude J. Hirschey was re-elected mayor of San Mateo Monday night during a special council meeting which lasted 10 minutes.

Hirschey, elected for a second two-year term by a 3-1 vote, was nominated by Councilman Richard McAllister and seconded by Carroll M. Speers. Councilman Creed Haberlin declined to vote and Edward J. Reilly cast the only opposing ballot.

It was at this point, after McAllister and Speers had voted for their candidate and Hirschey was assured of the election, that the mayor voted for himself. Two years ago, councilmen agreed that the mayorship should rotated but the plan hit a snag last night.

McAllister got the vice mayorship with no contest. Municipal Judge Francis W. Murphy administered the oath of office to Speers, Reilly and Haberlin, recently re-elected councilmen.

Bayshore Chase, 90 Miles an Hour

A merchant seaman who was charged with speeding 90 miles an hour on Bayshore Hwy. from San Mateo to Redwood City Tuesday afternoon was fined $50 by Justice of the Peace Edward I. McAuliffe yesterday afternoon.

Grady Lee Shelton, 23-year-old merchant seaman from Campbell, drove at a high rate of speed past Dep. Sheriff Milton Minehan, who with Dep. Dist. Atty. Fred Wyckoff, was returning from San Mateo with a prisoner. Minehan took after the speeder at South San Mateo and chased him at a 100-mile-an-hour clip to Redwood City, where he overtook him.

In the mentime, Minehan had sent a radio call for other officers to be on the lookout for the speeder. Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore hurried to Fifth Ave., and California Highway Patrolman Roy Edwards joined the chase on his motorcycle.

Shelton said both he and his passenger, who was not held, were having "wife trouble" and that they were hurrying to San Jose to get their marital difficulties straightened out.

The three had just concluded kneeling in prayer and were bound for their home at 234 State St. in San Mateo when the daughter, Mrs. J. Earle Harvey, asked:

"Are you tired, mother?"

Instead of the expected motion of the head to signify a yes or no answer, Mrs. Maher replied:

"Not very."

"We were so surprised and startled to hear mother's voice," explained Mrs. Harvey today, "that it was several seconds before anything else could be said."

They were the first audible words to cross Mrs. Maher's lips since June of 1921. At that time Mrs. Maher was a resident of Colorado Springs, Colo., when suddenly her vocal cords refused to function. She was unable even to whisper.

Mrs. Beatrice Roberts, city clerk, who has held continuously the office of secretary-treasurer since the club's organization, was thanked for her work.

Mineral Society Backs Butano Forest as Park

The Northern California Mineral Society met last evening in San Francisco at the Civic Center, when Julian A. Smith of the East Bay society talked on the identification of minerals.

The secretary, Mrs. Harriet Thompson reported the society had gone on record as endorsing the Butano Forest as a state park. A number of Peninsula members were among the audience. Attending from San Carlos were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Fryer.

Menlo Housing Shortage Relief Near, Says Mayor

Relief of the acute housing shortage in Menlo Park appears in sight, according to Mayor Donald Fisher, who made an optimistic report to the city council Tuesday on his conference with Preston Wright, regional director of the National Housing Agency.

Mayor Fisher said that the NHA director told him that he was recommending to Washington that 7500 homes be allocated to the East Bay Area. Mayor Fisher remarked that he was confident that Menlo Park would receive its share. He also advised all builders and individuals who desire to build to make application with the FHA in San Francisco.

The council added impetus to the Seventh War Loan drive in Menlo Park by authorizing the purchase of $12,000 in war bonds. Mayor Fisher said he hoped every individual in the community would make a special effort to put the district over the quota.

A lengthy discussion was held on the proposal to widen the existing alley at the rear of the fire station on Merrill Ave. Atty. James O'Keefe was instructed to take the necessary legal steps with the board of supervisors. W. K. Thoits of Palo Alto, represented the property owners at the meeting.

The council heard a proposal to change the building zoning of the 10-acre subdivision on Santa Cruz Ave. The new zoning requested will allow the contractor to construct 35 H-2 type homes of a certain design that conflicts with the present zoning ordinance for that district. A public meeting will be held May 29 to discuss the matter.

The meeting was adjourned until Tuesday, May 22, at the city hall.

Brookside Utilities Dist. Election Set For a Sunday

In a precedent-setting move—the setting of an election on a Sunday—the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday set Sunday, June 3, as the date of election on the formation of the Brookside Public Utility District in the Woodside area.

The Sunday date was agreed upon to accommodate workers who would be unable to vote on week days. Ernest Wilson, who represented the group seeking the formation, explained that the district was needed to provide more adequate water facilities.

There are 48 families in the proposed district, and more than 200 lots. Wilson declared that a private system is unable to meet demands of increased population.

The proposed district is in the Alpine and Portola Rd. region. The election will be held at the Portola School.

The supervisors approved annexation of Skyline Manor Tract 522 to Burlingame Hills Weed Abatement District. There were no protests at Tuesday's meeting.

1400 in County Draw Social Security Funds

Fourteen hundred persons received Social Security benefits in San Mateo County for the month of March, E. J. Foley, manager of the board's San Mateo office reported today. This is an 11 per cent increase over December, 1944, he said.

Retired workers over 65 are receiving the majority of payments which now amount to $32,600 per month in the county for all social security beneficiaries. Children of deceased or retired workers receive the next greatest proportion of payments.

Foley today reminded retired wage earners who have worked since they originally filed for retirement payments that an increase in their payments may be due. Also wives who have reached, 65 and widows who have become 65 since filing for benefits at the time of their husband's death, may have increased payments due them. They are requested to contact the San Mateo office at 308 Baldwin Ave., San Mateo.

Local Dogs Star In S.J. Show

Many local dogs won prizes at the San Jose Kennel Club annual all-breed show Sunday in the civic auditorium, B. B. Berman reported today. More than 500 dogs were entered in the all-day event.

Best whippet was Champion Frosty Morn of Meadows owned by G. J. Hooft of Woodside Rd. The dog also won the title of second best hound in the show. Best bull terrier and second best terrier was taken by Glory of Patch of Nelloyd owned by Kenyon L. Reid of Santa Clara Ave. Bobby Burns Berman, champion chief of staff, owned by B. B. Berman, was judged best schnauzer in the show and third best terrier.

The black cocker spaniel, Centra Costa Personality, of the C. B. Stoners, 845 Edgewood Rd., took best in class. Eleanor D. and Robert W. Poole's black cocker, The Guardsman of Chaparral, was judged the best in the American bred dogs class of black spaniels.

Bob Poole Jr. handled his cocker better than 60 other children, according to the judges, and took first prize. Mr. and Mrs. Mervin F. Rosenbaum's boxer, Belfine of Brielynn, won best in show. The Rosenbaums live at 90 Amador Ave., Atherton. Largest dog in the show was the Irish wolfhound of the Norwood B. Smiths of Woodside. The hound, Cragwood Druidh, took best in his class. The Great Dane, Lydale Brutus, owned by the R. H. Olesons of 407 Hillway Dr., took first in the open dog class.
